PRIZE WINNERS AT GRADED SCHOOL

Interesting and Profitable Afternoon Spent on "Parents' Day."

EXHIBITION OF WORK SHOWS
FINE PROGRESS OF PUPILS.

The winners in the map drawing contest at the Earlington Graded School, on the work that was exhibited last Friday as part of the Parents' Day program, were awarded special recognition in the shape of prize books presented by Prof. Dudley, principal of the school. The first prize winner was Hely Sharp in Miss Murrell's room. The contestants included only the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. The best work, as decided by the committee, by grades, was as follows: 5th grade, Anna West and Dorothy Willis; 6th grade, Wallace Clark and Owen Shaver; 7th grade, Miss Murrell, teacher; 8th grade, Wallace Clark and Owen Shaver; 8th grade, Miss Murrell, teacher. The committee on contest was composed of Mrs. James R. Rash, Mrs. Stella M. Kemp and Mrs. George Mothershead.

Visitors to the school on Friday afternoon last noted a marked progress made by the pupils during the month elapsed since the last parents' day. In drawing and writing the progress naturally was most easily to be seen. Very general improvement was evident and some of the work displayed showed talent and great care in its execution. The drawing was seen in every grade. Written exercises in the various studies were shown, a very complete display being made in each room of the work of the respective grades. The attendance of visitors was large, composed chiefly of the mothers, as is to be expected in a community where every man is busy at his daily avocation. Talks were made by Prof. Dudley, Mayor Rash, Rev. W. C. Brandon and Paul M. Moore, trustee. It was announced that there will be another "parents' day" soon, with a program entirely different from that of either occasion that has yet been celebrated. It is worth a day off to see the eager and interested children on these special days.

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a congested habit fills the system with impurities. HERBINE is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system, vitalizes the blood and puts the digestive organs in line vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by drug department of the St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated.

New Rabbit Law.

Much misapprehension as to the game law passed by the last Legislature has arisen in this county and probably in many other counties, especially as to setting traps and snares for rabbits and other game. The act that passed was very brief and is as follows:

"That it shall be unlawful for anyone to set a trap, deadfall or to loose or hunt with a ferret upon the premises or property or another, without first securing the written consent of the owner of the premises or property, and anyone thus offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $25.

"Having in possession game caught, as set out in Section 1, shall be prima facie evidence of guilt as herein provided.

W. O. TOY

Formerly of this City, Kills Rare Bird. Species Now Almost Extinct.

While quail hunting near the city, W. O. Toy, a well known barber, killed a long-beaked bird with beautiful plumage. The bird was little larger than a partridge. Mr. Toy brought it to town, but none of the scores of persons he showed it to seemed to know its species until Mayor Townsend happened along.

The Mayor immediately recognized the bird as one of the now almost extinct woodcocks, commonly known as the "jacksnipe." Mr. Toy gave the bird to Mayor Townsend, who had it prepared for his supper. Mayor Townsend said the incident carried him back thirty years ago, when woodcocks were almost as plentiful as sparrows in the vicinity and were considered the most delicious game bird a hunter could kill.—Bowling Green News.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by Geo. King & Sons.

Resolutions of Respect.

E. W. Turner Lodge, No. 584, F. & A. M.

Earlington, Ky., Nov. 11, 1910. Whereas, Amid the changing scenes of time Death has again visited our Lodge and taken from our midst Bro. R. D. Smith, who departed this life on Nov. 10th, 1910, at the age of 63 years.

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Smith the Lodge has lost a useful member; his family a kind father and loving husband.

Resolved, That we tender his family our heartfelt sympathy in their sadness and bereavement, and point them to Him, who doeth all things well; that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Lodge; a copy be sent to the family, and that they be published in the Earlington Bee.

Banks Will Waive Examining Trial.

Elkton, Ky., Nov. 23.—S. W. Forgy, who has been retained by the defense in the case of Morris Banks, who shot and killed his aunt, Mrs. Feneul A. Seabee, at Trenton, Saturday morning, stated this afternoon that his client will waive examining trial and that no application will be made for bail. No further steps will therefore be taken in the case until the grand jury of the December term of the Todd Circuit Court, which convenes on December 5, has reported its results of its investigation.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. It's positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c. at all druggists.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF

A recent consular report gives details of a new departure in trades-union methods which is of the highest importance; says a New York exchange. It involves a principal capable of almost revolutionizing present conditions. The Braasmakers' Association and the National Society of Braasworkers and Metal Mechanic, two British unions covering the entire trade, have unanimously endorsed the proposal to grade their members according to capacity.

The grading includes five classes, from the improver of twenty-one years of age to the completely qualified workman, expert in all processes and also able to scale drawings of blue print. The union, in fact, guarantees the quality of the work. The agreement provides against arbitrary reductions in grades, nor is it possible for the employer to keep the workman in a grade below his true capacity. The best man gets the best wages, as he ought to do in every trade and calling.

Unquestionably labor unions have rights, but the union leaders forget that they have also responsibilities. If they can demand that a bricklayer in New York shall receive the highest wages in the world, they are morally bound to see that he does the best work in the world. A good bricklayer can lay 1,500 brick a day easily, and plenty can lay 2,000. The union has in recent times reduced the output to seven hundred. This is common ordinary swindling, and the plea that it provides work for so many more men in fallacious. It means just so much waste and it destroys exactly that amount of power to create employment.

The curious part about the Braasworkers' plan is that it is as old as trades unionism itself. It defines exactly the conditions enforced by the trades guilds of the Middle Ages. The workman then was proud of his dexterity. He stood up for the rights of his fellows, but he did not demand that the incompetent should receive the same wages as a competent, because in so doing he would degrade the best man to the level of the most stupid. This is precisely what our trades-unions are doing to-day. A first class workman restricted in quality and output to less than his capacity is demoralized thereby. He deteriorates all the time, and if he has any conscience at all, he knows that he is a shirker and a cheat.

Madisonville Notes

High School Debate.

The Owensboro High School has challenged the Madisonville High School to a debate to be held in Owensboro. The M. H. S. students accepted the challenge at once. The subject will be "Resolved, War Has Been a Greater Curse Than a Blessing to Humanity," and the date set for the debate is December 28.

The Madisonville High School is allowed to select either side of the question.

A GRAND "POSSUM HUNT."

Enjoyed by the Young People of Allensville.

On last Wednesday night the stillness of the vicinity around Allensville was broken by the merry shouts of a party of "possum" hunters chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prince. Never was there such excitement and anticipation manifested as the jolly crowd assembled for the great hunt. Each gallant with his "Lassie" wandered out through the woods at random, falling over logs and whooping at the dogs, fighting underbrush and yelling at the top of our voices as they slowly made their way to the famous "Possum" resort known as Mosley pond. We had scarcely reached the edge of this impenetrable morass when one of the dogs announced by a prolonged howl that he had "treed" Every one of the party made a break for the dog and found he had put one of the night prowlers up an oak tree six feet in diameter at the butt and no one in the crowd could climb a tree like this so they had to leave his "Possumship" and depart for other game. After tramping around in the woods for two hours and finding no game we came to the conclusion that the "Possum" knew what dangerous hunters we were and all of them crawled in their dens and stayed there, so we built a big fire to throw more light on the subject. To our great surprise and delight the young men of the party produced various baskets and packages containing a beautiful supply of good things to eat and we ate with the same zeal and earnestness that we imagine Mr. Roosevelt did on his famous hunting trip in the wilds of Africa, after big game. The time passed all too quickly and our chaperones gently broke the news it was time to depart "Possum," or no "Possum."

We thanked the young men for the delightful hunt and more than a delightful supper and regretfully took our leave feeling that our hunt had been a success even though we did not get any game. Following are those who enjoyed the hunt: Ed Gill, Hortense Follin, Milton Gill, Sarah Sadler, Burdell Campbell, Jessie May Prince, Stewart Riley, Mary Bradley, Frazier Penic, Lade Prince, Joe Riley, Polly Dickerson, Chesley Adams, Ethel Oate, Bernard Robertson, Birdie Gill, Ernest Williams, Fay Childress, Charlie Gill, Winnie Gill, Eugene Gill, Mallie Prince, Joe Prince Jr., Blanch Gill, Lizzie Lee Prince, Chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prince.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which often is the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by Geo. King & Sons.

Union Thanksgiving Service.

Union Thanksgiving service was held on Wednesday evening at the M. E. Church, South, by agreement of representatives of the various congregations of Earlington. Talks were made by Rev. Brandon, of that church, Rev. Holtzclaw, of the M. E. Church, and Mr. Jas. R. Rash of the Christian church. The musical program included several fine thanksgiving hymns. A collection was taken for the relief of any needy ones in the community.

NIGHT RIDER DAMAGE SUITS TO BE HEARD

Federal Court Opens With Soliders on Guard.

WARD HEADLEY, OF PRINCETON, DISMISSED AS DEFENDANT.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 23.—The November term of United States Court opened Tuesday morning, with Judge Walter Evans, of Louisville, presiding. All the night rider damage suits, aggregating about $200,000, were continued until Wednesday. State soldiers, under command of Lieut. Gooch, are doing guard duty to prevent an outbreak of any kind. About 300 witnesses and defendants are in attendance including Mrs. Mary Lou Hollowell, who, with her husband, received a $25,000 verdict against the riders in the United States Court a year ago. She is a witness for the plaintiffs.

On motion of Congressman Ollie James, who represents the defendants in the night rider suits, Ward Headley, a prominent lawyer of Princeton, was dismissed as a defendant in the suit of Mrs. Laura Tommey against Dr. L. Amos and other alleged riders, for $50,000 damages. The expert witness in the night-rider suits is Stanford Hall, a self-confessed rider. He is being guarded by the soldiers. Hall is charged with flourishing his pistol in a local restaurant, but the case was continued in Police Court owing to the session of Federal Court.

FORMER SLAVE GIVES HOME FOR NEGRO SICK

Colorado Springs Man Donates 480 Acres of Land For Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 22.—James K. Polk Taylor, a former slave, 71 years old, and his wife it was announced to day have given 480 acres of land at Calhan, forty miles east of Colorado Springs, to the Charles Sumner Tuberculosis Association as a site for a national tuberculosis sanitarium for negroes. It is understood $300,000 will be spent on the sanitarium.

Dyspepsia is our national ailment. Burdock Blood Bitters is the national cure for it. It strengthens stomach membranes, promotes flow of digestive juices, purifies the blood, builds you up.

Church Advertising.

A glance at the religious notices in the Saturday papers is sufficient to show to what extent the churches now avail themselves of display type to set forth their attractions, says the New York World. Almost as much prominence is given to the announcement of the Sunday services as to theater advertising, and the fact is significant of a new conception of the uses of publicity in promoting an interest in religion.

Not only is the subject of the sermon printed in type selected to catch the eye, but attention is called to special features of a program designed to draw a large audience—to the concert or moving-picture exhibition arranged for, to the fact that the services will be held on the parish-house roof during hot weather, to addresses on civic questions or the discussion of political issues. A "cut" of the church or a picture of the pastor sometimes accompanies the notice.

This extension of publicity methods by the churches is not confined to the large cities. It is a movement of national extent.

AD-TALK

What would you think of a salesman who reported for duty one day, lay off for two, worked a half day, went off for a week and so on without any regularity? Surely you would not expect good service from such a man. And yet some merchants hold advertising, which is simply a "salesman," up to great results when it is allowed to "work" very irregularly.

The fact that advertising costs money is proof of its value. Things without cost are usually worth only their price.

Distinguished Visitors Returns to Cincinnati.

Mr. J. E. Taylor and Mr. Chas. Bergen, of Cincinnati, Ohio, visited their aunt, Mrs. J. W. Kingston, of Mortons Gap, for a few days, returned home, taking Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Kingston's mother, with them. Mrs. Armstrong has been with us for five months. Being a motherly old lady we will all miss her greatly, but not so much as Mrs. Kingston and family.

Mr. Taylor is closely connected with Hetty Green, the richest woman in this country.

Both young men enjoyed a trip to our mines, besides hunting. They expect to come again soon.

Mrs. Kingston was anxious to keep all until after Thanksgiving, as that is held a great day in the north, but owing to the sad death of Mr. Taylor's brother, Mrs. Armstrong was anxious to return to Cincinnati to console her daughter.

We hope to see them all again soon. A SUBSCRIBER.

LAME EXCUSES.

THEY say that any one would graft, including me and you. Dip in his ball and help himself. Were not the shame in view. Did opportunity unfold. Take everything in sight. But even though it may be true, That doesn't make it right.

A plea like that may serve to ease The conscience for awhile, And, though it is a lame excuse, It seems to be the style. On plea so specious place When in the still and solemn court The jury has his case.

When grafting pleasantly along On something that looks sure It seems a very good thing. A living to secure. But when some spy upstirrer comes Muck raising on the trail, It's slightly different if a chap Must hustle out for bail.

It doesn't soften the diatribe, It doesn't pay the fine. To say that every one would like A Bible in that line. When no exposure is around It all seems very well. But much more serious it seems To view it from a cell.

Unselfish. "Could you spare me a nickel?" whined the beggar. "I haven't had a thing to eat for three days."

"I would do it gladly, but I am just about busted myself."

"But I only want a nickel."

"Sorry, but that is more than I have. But, seeing the look of disappointment on the face of the beggar, he added, "You don't happen to have a hatchet, do you?"

"What do you want with a hatchet?" "So I could divide my last cent with you."

Good Man Gone. "Did you not know Clarence?" "No, I don't remember him."

"He was a good man. It took three policemen to arrest him, and then they couldn't have done it if he hadn't given himself up. He was a good man."

"Does he live around here now?" "No; they hanged him."

Got Satan Bluffed. "That woman would intimidate Satan himself."

"Who's Mrs. Sprightly?" "Yes."

"You don't say?" "Yes, I do. He wouldn't dare to intimate that a single soul was his own if she were around."

Certain Way. "I want to learn to make money."

"Do you?" "Yes. Can you tell me how?" "Certainly."

"You can? Pray, do."

"Get a job at the mill."

So Careless. "Jembs, when are you going to marry the Widow Doodey?"

"I didn't know I was going to marry her."

"What! Hasn't she mentioned it to you?"

Just an Inference. "He is leading the simple life now."

"Too bad about that?" "About what?"

"I hadn't heard that he had lost his money."

Undoubtedly. "He is a perfect lady."

"Perhaps that is why he finds the average man so insulting."

Past Masters. They say that ages will not lie. The grocer man he came along And sprang on me his bill.

Cured? "What?"

Poison is Quicker. "There is a man who claims he can cure any disease by fasting."

"That is an old remedy."

"Is it effective?"

"It persisted in long enough."

A Southern Magazine.

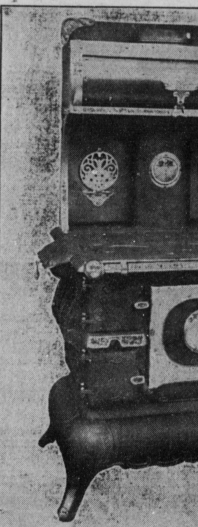

Six years have passed since we ventured to publish a Magazine representative of the South and West. Today we stand alone in the light of a successful and progressive literary Magazine, devoted exclusively to the interest of the Southern and Western People. The field which we represent cannot be covered by any other publication, that is why we stand on solid ground. We are instrumentalizing the development of our Southern Industries. We give the people an opportunity to read of what is being done today. This is a brief outline of what the Taylor-Trotwood Magazine is doing. We are satisfied that this is the best one dollar and fifty cent magazine published, but we are not satisfied with our mailing list. You may get other magazines for less than $1.50, but you can't get the Taylor-Trotwood. It is worth that at least.

SEMI-WEEKLY BEE

Read How It Is Done

For every dollar paid on subscription we give you a ticket with a number on it. There are one thousand of these tickets running from 1 to 1,000. THE WINNING NUMBERS were placed in a sealed envelope in the Earlington Bank. No one knows what these numbers are, as they were placed in a face downward on a table and the two numbers selected by a young lady who was blindfolded. The word Range was written on one and Brass Bed on the other and they were placed in an envelope and Webb Bros. Store and Edgar M. Truitt, Manager of St. Bernard Drug Store. When all of the tickets have been given out the envelope will be opened by Mr. Will Phillips and the parties holding corresponding numbers will get the Range and Bed free. In case the winning number has been lost the nearest low number wins the prize.

We wish to put the Semi-Weekly Bee in every home in Hopkins county, and in order to do this we make you the following wonderful offer: We will give you the Semi-Weekly Bee one year and our $2.50 eight piece Kitchen Set and a chance on the $30.00 Range and $20.00 Bed for $2.00. Or we will give you the Semi-Weekly Bee one year and your choice of the $1.50 Roosevelt book "Hunting Big Game in Africa" or one piece of blue and white Granite and a chance on the Range and Brass Bed for $1.75. Our canvasser will call on you in a few days with a sample of the Kitchen Set, Book and Granite. Remember as soon as the 1,000 tickets are given out the winning number will be announced. Call at the Pain Hardware Company and see this Range. Mr. Plain will take pleasure in showing you its good points. Ask O'Brien & Utley about Brass Beds, what they are worth and how long they last, they will be glad to tell you. Subscriptions for the Bee will be taken at either place and a receipt given. Take advantage of this offer now, you get more than your money's worth and may get one of the premiums.

This $30 Model Range and Hand-some $20 Brass Bed

Both of These are Universally Used and Will Make a Handsome Addition to any Home in Hopkins County.

Given Away Absolutely Free by The

SEMI-WEEKLY BEE

Read How It Is Done

For every dollar paid on subscription we give you a ticket with a number on it. There are one thousand of these tickets running from 1 to 1,000. THE WINNING NUMBERS were placed in a sealed envelope in the Earlington Bank. No one knows what these numbers are, as they were placed in a face downward on a table and the two numbers selected by a young lady who was blindfolded. The word Range was written on one and Brass Bed on the other and they were placed in an envelope and Webb Bros. Store and Edgar M. Truitt, Manager of St. Bernard Drug Store. When all of the tickets have been given out the envelope will be opened by Mr. Will Phillips and the parties holding corresponding numbers will get the Range and Bed free. In case the winning number has been lost the nearest low number wins the prize.

We wish to put the Semi-Weekly Bee in every home in Hopkins county, and in order to do this we make you the following wonderful offer: We will give you the Semi-Weekly Bee one year and our $2.50 eight piece Kitchen Set and a chance on the $30.00 Range and $20.00 Bed for $2.00. Or we will give you the Semi-Weekly Bee one year and your choice of the $1.50 Roosevelt book "Hunting Big Game in Africa" or one piece of blue and white Granite and a chance on the Range and Brass Bed for $1.75. Our canvasser will call on you in a few days with a sample of the Kitchen Set, Book and Granite. Remember as soon as the 1,000 tickets are given out the winning number will be announced. Call at the Pain Hardware Company and see this Range. Mr. Plain will take pleasure in showing you its good points. Ask O'Brien & Utley about Brass Beds, what they are worth and how long they last, they will be glad to tell you. Subscriptions for the Bee will be taken at either place and a receipt given. Take advantage of this offer now, you get more than your money's worth and may get one of the premiums.

Dry Your Clothes on a Wet Washday With a New Perfection Oil Heater

When clothes can't be hung outside, and must be dried in a room or cellar, the New Perfection Oil Heater quickly does the work of sun and air. You can hang up the wet clothes, light your Perfection Oil Heater, open the damper top, and the heat rises and quickly dries the clothes.

Do not put off washing to await a sunny day in order to avoid mildew. Dry your washing any day with hot air from a

PERFECTION
SMOKELESS
OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless and smokeless. It gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and can always be easily unscrewed for reworking.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not need to be screwed down, but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. Finished in Japan or nickel, strong and durable.

For service and yet light and ornamental. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

HIGHLAND PHILOSOPHY

By James Harrison Eads.

The diction of the farmer never reaches higher than he climbs.

A man's thoughts may reach to the stars while he remains in a mudhole.

Because a woman has captivated the populace is no proof that she is an angel.

Some men will swear to the highest friendship, even to the end, then stab you in the dark.

If you would ever have listening ears and closed lips this world would be much better. All open mouths must touch responsive chords or they will close.

Many people are our best friends, for further consideration.

In the business world today friendship is measured according to its cash value.

Many love affairs are concentrated on bank accounts.

It may be a contract of honor but either party will break the honor in order to make a dollar on the contract.

Some marriages may be affairs of the heart, but many of them have pocketbooks hanging to them.

Much is said of a mother's love because she hangs on, and little of the father's love because he furnishes the means.

Patriotism should begin in the home then it will reach out and cover the land, but patriotism that begins in the army never returns home.

Self love takes hold on a man's whole being and if indulged will destroy all good will toward others.

The proverbial "snake in the grass" has turned to a serpent in every day-life.

If men would turn from the effect to the cause they would more clearly see how to correct many evils.

When a friend (?) tells you something your neighbor said, you will do well to go and hear the other side.

It is well to be skillful, expert, but not at lying or stealing.

When politics are at their worst then is the time for the honest voters to strike their hardest blows.

There is more truth in jokes than is generally supposed. Many use playful discourse to hide their sarcasm.

There are many persons who bank on their names before the public that would not do much banking business were their names brought out from behind the public.

This may be an enlightened age, but were all the closets cleaned out, all under cover revealed and all buried relics of character resurrected the age would be doubly enlightened.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by Geo. King & Sons.

OVERPOWERS GUARD AND ESCAPES ASYLUM

Arthur Miles and J. W. Proctor, at Large.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 23.—Overpowering their guard and taking away his keys, Arthur Miles, murderer of Beatie Strith in Louisville, and J. William Proctor, of Union county, inmates of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the insane, made a sensational escape from the institution at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Believing Miles to be either a murderer, madman or a desperate criminal, there is much alarm in the community. A posse is scouring the country and the police in all the towns in this region have been notified to search for the men.

The Railroad Forever.

Up in Minnesota, Mr. Olsen has a cow killed by a railroad train. The due reason the claim agent of the railroad called,

"We understand, of course, that the deceased was a very docile and valuable animal," said the claim agent in his most persuasive claim-agently manner, "and we sympathize with you and your family in your loss. But, Mr. Olsen, you must remember this, your cow had no business being upon our tracks. Those tracks are our private property and when she invaded them she became a trespasser. Technically speaking you, as her owner, became a trespasser also. But we have no desire to carry the issue into court and possibly give you trouble. Now then, what would you regard as a fair settlement between you and the railroad company?"

"Vall," said Mr. Olsen slowly, "Ay bane poor Swede farmer, but Ay snall give you two dol lars."—Everybody's.

Bridal Customs in Spain.

In Spain a bride has no girl attendants to stand at the altar with her, but instead a "madrina," or godmother. Neither does she have a wedding cake nor any festive going away after the ceremony. The wedding pair depart quietly to their new home, where they remain until the following day, when they start on their honeymoon. Before departing they pay a formal visit to their respective relatives.

School Library.

The campaign for funds for the school library has been very satisfactory in its results. Up to date $50.25 has been raised by the various rooms. Of this amount Miss Sisk's room did the best, raising $15.25. The amount raised by each room will be expended for books, especially adapted to that grade. Both pupils and patrons deserve great credit for this free will offering.

In Miss Sisk's room, in a competitive composition, on the subject, "How I Earned My Birthday Offering," Dorothy Corbitt was decided to be first, which follows:

How I Earned My Birthday Money.

Our Public School Library is in need of some new book, so Prof. Dudley told the pupils of our school to bring as many cents as they were years old. I went home and ask my mother could I do some work for her. She said, "Yes." The next day she told me she would give me five cents to deliver a few goods for her. She gave me two cents to wash the dishes, and another cent to sweep the back porch. She gave me one cent to get the milk. It was nearly dark when I went to get milk, and while I was coming back I spilt some of the milk on my coat, and when the coat got dry I had to get the clothes brush and clean it. By doing all these things I earned 10 cents for the library, which is my age.

DOROTHY CORBITT,
Fourth Grade.

H. G. Jones Goes With The Hustler.

Henry Jones has accepted a position with the Hustler Publishing Company. Mr. Jones is a born newspaper man and has a nose for news. He was for quite a while employed by the Semi-weekly Bee and was one of the best news gatherers ever connected with the paper. He is also a hustler of the highest quality and will make the Hustler a good man.

THE BEB and the Book. That's a good combination. Ask THE BEB man about it.

He Was Pested.

A well known ventriloquist was bidding adieu to some friends at a railway station, and one of them presented him with a dog to which he had taken a great fancy. The train began to move, and there was no time to get a dog ticket, so when the cry "All tickets ready" was heard a few stations farther on the professor put the dog into a small hamper labeled, "Professor Dash, Ventriloquist." When the collector opened the door and the dog began barking he looked at the hamper and read the label; then he turned to the owner, "All right, professor," he said; "I ain't taking any jokes just now. I've been had like that before." And, slamming the door, he walked off.—London Graphic.

Doctors Are More Thorough Now.

A physician at a dinner in Denver sneered at certain Biblical miracles, "Lazarus," he said, "was raised from the dead, and yet I don't see any dead folks being raised in our time."

"No," said a clergyman, an eminent Biblical scholar, with a smile. "Modern medical science has progressed too far for that, eh?"—Washington Star.

Conciliatory.
Head Walter dignified and pompous.—Have you ordered, sir? Despairing Patron—Yes, I ordered a porterhouse steak half an hour ago, and I wish to apologize for my rudeness. With your permission I will withdraw it as an order and renew it as a suggestion.—Chicago Tribune.

Comparisons.
Small Tommy—My pa's awful smart. Little Elsie—What does he do? Small Tommy—He's a mechanic and makes locomotives. Little Elsie—That's nothing. My pa's a commuter and makes two trains every day.—Chicago News.

THERE IS A REASON

Why it pays to advertise in the SEMI-WEEKLY BEE:

It reaches a large number of wage earners who take no other paper.

It has an almost exclusive circulation in a community where $50,000.00 in money is paid out each month.

It is read by hundreds of people who buy what they want and who have money to pay for what they buy.

The only way to get your advertisement before the people of Earlington, Morgans Gap, St. Charles and immediate vicinity is through the medium of the Earlington Bee. A visit to the wise is sufficient.

WE are most of us very lonely in this world; you who have any who love you, cling to them and thank God.—Thackeray.

The largest wool house in this country, if not in the world, is to be built at Boston. It will have a capacity of 100,000,000 pounds and will be capable of housing one-third of the entire wool clip of the entire country. About 80 per cent. of the wool sold in the United States is marketed in Boston.

Corn is a bigger thing in this country than most people imagine. It isn't all used to feed hogs and to make corn-bread and hominy, either. There are some industries, manufacturing corn products, that consume as much as 100,000 bushels daily. This would amount in a run of a year of 300 days, to 30,000,000 bushels for the one plant. The price of corn now is some 12 cents a bushel less than one year ago. This difference in price would amount in the year's run to a saving of $3,000,000. And that's something of a corn industry. Out of it we get glucose, syrup, starch, a small percentage of oil, and other products, put up in nice, handy packages and served to us at close prices off our favorite grocery shelf here in Earlington or any other town in which our residence is planted. Nothing in the line as big as this outside of the United States.

Best Citizenship.

He built no palace high and proud,

He owned no acres, fair and broad,

And where he passed the busy crowd

Was not expected to applaud.

He won no fortune, gained no fame,

No ships of his put out to sea;

And free from dread and free from blame

He did his work, from envy free.

No other sighed because he won

A little triumph now and then;

The creed imparted to his son

Was: "Deal thou fairly with all men."

He took no other's rights away,

He lent the weak a helping hand,

And deemed it manly to obey

The law provided for his land.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Earnings of L. & N. Shows a Good Increase.

Gross earnings of the Louisville & Nashville railroad for the second week in November were $1,132,230, as compared with $1,076,730 for the same week of the previous year, a gain for 1910 of $55,500. The revenues for the first two weeks of the current month were $2,235,200, a gain of $119,755 over the revenues for the same two weeks of the year before. The receipts since July 1, including the first two weeks of November were $39,439,612, an increase of $1,399,450 over the same period of the year before.

'Every Month'

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is a gentle tonic for young and old women. It relieves and prevents pain. It builds strength. It feeds the nerves. It helps the whole system.

Made from harmless roots and herbs, it has no bad after-effects, does not interfere with the use of any other medicine and can do you nothing but good.

Try Cardui. It will help you. Your dealer sells it.

The Epicurean Badger.

The badger is a great epicure in eggs, and much of the hostility of gamekeepers to this animal lies undoubtedly in the fact that it will, when it gets the chance, devour a whole nest of partridge or pheasant eggs. Badgers are said also to be fond of honey, and, knowing the extraordinary craving of their South African cousin, the ratel, for this delicacy, I should say it is not improbable that they may occasionally partake of it. It is certain that these animals have a particular liking for the nest and larvae of wasps and wild bees, digging down with strong feet and infinite perseverance till they attain their object. These animals are said by keepers to kill and devour freely the young of game birds when he can get hold of them.—Westminster Gazette.

Strange Fishing Matches.

In the olden time in England lords and ladies sometimes invented queer amusements. They were always on the lookout for some novelty, and one of the strangest they discovered was fishing by a goose. A line with a baited hook attached having been fastened to the goose, tied to its leg, she was flung into the water from the boat in which were all the gay lords and ladies. Then, when a pike caught the bait, she was sported inside a royal barge between bird and fish, and all the time, between the loud splashing, wheelings and soundings, the on-lookers in the boat giving vent to their feelings in cheers, handclappings and handkerchief waving. But the goose was usually the victor and ended the struggle by landing its prisoner on the shore, where its quick-quick as it cleared itself from the line and waddled away ended the scene. The lake of Monteth, in the southwest of Perthshire, was often the scene of such angling matches.

The Soldier Ant.

The lion is the king of beasts, but all of his magnificent strength and ferocity would avail him nothing when he faced a mere ant. But this ant is not the usual kind which peacefully goes about its domestic duties day by day. It is the terrible driver or soldier ant, said to be the most invincible creature in the world. Against these tiny enemies no man or band of men, no lion or tiger, not even a herd of elephants, can do anything but hurriedly get out of the way. Among the baroque natives a favorite form of capital punishment is to coat the victim with grease and throw him before the advancing army of soldier ants. The quickness with which the poor wretch is dispatched is marvelous when it is considered that each ant can do nothing more than merely tear out a small particle of flesh and carry it off. Yet in a surprisingly short time the writhing victim will have been changed into a skeleton.

Old Saws and Sayings.

A few old sayings on the subject of food come to us rather as a surprise in our age of daintiness and refinement, yet they have their raison d'être notwithstanding. "Meat is much, manners are more." "Cease your chatter and mind your platter." "The ass that brays most eats least." "The wing with the liver to him who's the giver." "He can give little to his servant who licks his own trencher."

Apropos of this remark, it is amusing to note that "manners" was the name given to the remnants of a meal. These came to the servants as official perquisites; hence our well-worn expression before emptying a dish, "Leave the last slice or whatever it may be for manners," though if votes were collected on this point it is hardly likely that any of us would have taken it as it stands in the original.

Carthage's Great Snake.

The ancients firmly believed in monster serpents of all kinds and of both the land and marine species. During the wars with Carthage a great snake is said to have kept the Roman army from crossing the Bagradas river for several days. The monster swallowed up no less than seventy Roman soldiers during this combat and was not conquered until a hundred stones from as many different catapults were fired upon it all at one time. The monster skull and skin were preserved and afterward exhibited in one of the Roman temples. The dried skin of the creature was 120 feet in length, according to Pliny.

Throat Trouble.
"You look like old man. What's the matter?"
"Throat trouble."
"I didn't know you were subject to it."
"Yes, I am. This throat belongs to the newcomer in the next house, who practices singing at all hours of the night."

Past is Past.
Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities, no doubt, crept in. Forget them as soon as you can.—Emerson.

The Drawback.
"Can't you live just as cheap in the suburbs as in town?"
"Yes, but everybody knows it out there."—Life.
Distance is a great promoter of admiration.—Liddert.

Life of Roosevelt and His Strenuous Hunt in the Deep Wilds of Africa!

The Semi-Weekly Bee one year and the Book for $1.50, price of book alone

The book comprises nearly four hundred large octavo pages, printed on fine paper and beautifully bound, with scores of magnificent, full page photograph engravings of scenes in the heart of Africa; its dark mysterious forests, mighty rivers and far stretching plains; with pictures of lions, elephants, giraffes and of other strange animals, hitherto unknown to civilization, that Theodore Roosevelt has killed.

What a scene for a thrilling story! Africa the Dark Continent, the Land of Mystery. Mere descriptions of it have always been interesting. The accounts of Livingstone and Stanley have sold heavily in United States, but the story of Theodore Roosevelt, who is one of us; the every day, intimate history as told by the friends and companions of his trip, has a fascination absolutely incalculable.

This Book Sells for $1.50

Down in the Mines

In the Copper river country of Alaska there is a railroad being built at great cost that will open up a very valuable copper and coal country. Through the mountains the immense amount of rock drilling for seventy-five miles of road has been done by hand, because of the excessive cost of coal, which must be imported at an average cost of $14.50 a ton. The singular thing about it all is that, within a few miles of the railroad, on American soil, there is an inexhaustible body of the finest coal. This coal is absolutely tied up by conservation restrictions and cannot be touched until Congress passes some sort of legislation authorizing its development.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years." This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, influenza, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Several Cases of Smallpox in County.

The county board of health met Monday. There were no matters of importance brought up before the body except the smallpox situation. There is one case in the pest house, one in Coulton and two families in Daniel Boone are stricken with the disease.

There is no danger of the disease spreading, and it is believed that those who are ill with it will recover.

Bankers' 10 Commandments.

Thou shalt not advertise an untruth to the people.

Thou shalt advertise without break in the newspaper, for thy home people will thus learn to read thy copy regularly, and the results therefrom will repay thy place of habitation, and thee and thy patrons will derive mutual profit from advertising.

Thou shalt employ a part of thy time in giving careful thought to advertising so thy people shall not grope in ignorance.

Thou shalt not let copy grow stale, as the people want fresh news in ads, as well as in the local columns.

Thou shalt not ask the people to have confidence in thine institution without giving them proper information, for suspicion grows from the lack of information. The ignorant withdraw their funds without reasons; this has its effects on others.

Thou shalt do whatever lieth in thy power to promote thrift and encourage enterprise among thine own town people.

Thou shalt beware of advertising that brings no returns; this eats into expense and leads to the destructions of thy faith.

Thou shalt spend thy advertising appropriation wisely, that thou mayest receive the benefit and set an example for those who come after thee.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against the institution wherein thou worketh, but speak well of it to all men.

Thou shalt keep these commandments as a rule and guide for those who come after thee, even to the third and fourth generation.—The Bank Advertiser.

Weird Bequests.

According to his will, probated today, E. J. Holley, who died in delirium tremens on Tuesday, has left the whole of the $200,000 bequeathed him by his foster mother, Mrs. Johanna Madden, the "Hermit Woman," and to friends and attendance, many of whom he had never seen. Some of the bequests are without precedent in the annals of the Probate Court.

Among the most remarkable of the legacies left by Holley are the following: "To the nurse who kindly removed a pink monkey from the foot of my bed in the midst of my suffering, $5,000," and "to the cook who removed snakes from my broth at the hospital, $5,000." There are similar ones to close friends, including favorite baseball players, Deputy Sheriffs and schoolmates.

The will has been contested. Mrs. Anna Laura Morgridge has filed a suit claiming that she is the heir to the estate of J. W. Madden, husband of the "Hermit Woman." She declares she is the daughter of Madden by a former wife.

Halley's death followed a celebration which has been almost constant since the death of his foster mother some months ago. Mrs. Madden lived in the heart of the town, at the store where her husband and foster son conducted her grocery business. She had not gone outside the house in many years. The reason was found after her death. Secreted in many parts of the building over $200,000 were discovered in gold and currency. It was her refusal to venture away from where it was hidden that obtained for her the name of the "Hermit Woman." — Memphis Correspondent of the New York World.

BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Earlington People Receiving the Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in Earlington relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. R. A. Smith, Wilson street, Earlington says: "I am glad to publicly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys were badly disordered and the pains in my back were so acute that I could not stoop without suffering severely. The pain often extended into my sides and became more severe if I stood for awhile. I had dizzy spells and many times was forced to grasp something in order to steady myself. I also suffered from terrible headaches and many days could scarcely get out of bed. I can safely say that I spent more than one hundred dollars for medicines and doctors' treatments, but I obtained scarcely any benefit. On the advice of a friend, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the St. Bernard Drug Store, and began their use. This remedy cured me in less than two weeks."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

OLD CUSTOM OF THANKSGIVING

Earlington Graded School Children Repeat Their Annual Offering.

AS THEY HAVE DONE
FOR MANY YEARS.

The old custom of making a Thanksgiving offering at the Earlington Graded and High School was followed, as usual, on Wednesday, so that the offerings could be distributed in good time to bring good cheer where it would do good. Some 200 packages were taken by the children to the school on Wednesday, estimated at a value of not less than $25.00. These were handled by those of the teachers most familiar with local conditions and the distribution was made by a number of boys of the school who volunteered heartily for this labor of love. This beautiful custom has come to be a habit, so long has it been practiced here, and the children and the parents take a universal interest in its perpetuation. All the offerings, too, were such as were immediately useful to those who became recipients. This one practice in Christian charity is participated in by more people in Earlington, on its annual observance in the school, than perhaps any other single effort put forth during the year, and is therefore the most valuable, particularly as it impresses the good lesson on the young people.

Lame back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by Geo. King & Sons.

ADMIT GUILT

Two Coal Miners at Nortonville Confess to Stealing $60.

Will Wicks and Walter Boyd, aged 18 and 19 respectively, coal miners, who have been working for the Nortonville Coal Co., were brought to Madisonville Wednesday morning by Marshal Sam Woodward, after they had confessed stealing $60 from E. A. Stone, also a coal miner of Nortonville.

The boys were sent to jail and will be tried Monday. Boyd claimed before county attorney Sypert Wednesday afternoon that Wicks gave him the money, but did not tell him he stole it.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, lagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling cold, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe, sure. 25c at all druggists.

The Wedding Day

A Tale of New Amsterdam

By HELEN INGLEHART

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

There lived in the town of New Amsterdam, which is now the great city of New York, a Dutchman—they were all Dutchmen there then—named Peter Van Gansback. Peter had a daughter, Katrina, whose eyes were as blue as the vault of heaven, whose cheeks were like two roses blooming in a pan of milk and whose hair hung down her back like a lovely woven fax rope.

Now, there were a people not far to the east of New Amsterdam who were of English extraction and of an entirely different makeup from the Dutch. These were the Yankees. Whenever the two peoples met for prodies they never met for anything else except to fight—the Dutchman invariably went home with nothing, while the Yankee had twice as much as he had before. It is not to be wondered that the former hated the latter.

Pardon Langdon, the Yankee who had won Katrina's young heart, was a long, lean, hungry looking youth who walked with a slouchy gait, drawled his words and did not appear to know enough to go under cover when it rained. Nevertheless, he was not to be shaken from his purpose to marry Katrina despite the refusal of her father and mother and the principal citizens of New Amsterdam. These principal citizens, including her father, met to take measures to prevent the robbery of one of the most beautiful of their ladies by a Yankee and her transfer to the cabbage fields of Connecticut. A great deal of schnapps was consumed, and many pounds of tobacco were smoked—for a Dutchman could not deliberate without both—when the council came to the conclusion that the best way to prevent Katrina's marrying a Yankee was to marry her to a Dutchman.

No sooner was this decision reached than this unmarried man present put forward a claim for the position of Katrina's husband, whereupon her father announced that she should be wedded to the man among them who could show the largest number of pet-ries—for that was the sole business of the town—and old Dietrick Van Cricle, some sixty years old, baldheaded and with the palsy, having shown that he owned more skins than any other, was selected to save Katrina to the community.

This was too much for Katrina's mother, who from this time sided with her daughter. But Katrina's mother was the stupidest woman in New Amsterdam. Katrina told Pardon Langdon all that had happened and that she was to be forced to marry old Van Cricle on the fifteenth day of June coming. Pardon told Katrina to persuade her father to promise her that she was not married to Dietrick Van Cricle on the 15th of June, 1647, she should not be forced to marry him at all, but should be permitted to marry whomsoever she liked. Katrina, aided by her mother, spent a week persistently entreating the old man to this request, and he, worn out by their importunities, finally gave in. But he told Van Cricle what he had done and warned him to surely be on hand on the appointed day to claim his bride.

When Katrina reported the success of her and her mother's work done upon her father he told her to tell her mother to meet him that night at the base of the tower wherein was the town clock. The mother did so, and Pardon, opening the door for her, told her to go up and set the clock back twenty-four hours. This was done, and Pardon instructed her that on the 15th of June she should tell her husband what she had done.

The result of all this was that on the morning of the appointed wedding Peter Van Gansback called the council together, told them of his promise to his daughter, of his wife's turning the clock back twenty-four hours, and that Katrina now claimed that the day for the wedding had passed. What should he do?

Anthony Ten Broeck, the clearest headed man in New Amsterdam, arose and attempted to prove that, though the clock had been turned back a day, no day had been lost. But he became involved in his own argument and sat down in confusion. Others endeavored to set the matter right, but met with no better success than Ten Broeck. Then the bridegroom expectant attempted to show that the day appointed for the nuptials had arrived, but he only succeeded in proving that a day had been lost by the turning back of the clock and it was now the 16th of June. As the schnapps and tobacco smoke mounted to the brains of the Dutchmen the confusion became greater, and the debate lasted so long that some of them went to sleep, while others went home to dinner.

After dinner the discussion continued till it began to grow dark, and all went home to supper and to bed. The next morning Katrina went to her father and claimed that the 15th of the month had passed, while the council were debating and she was now entitled to marry whom she pleased.

The old man was satisfied that it was now at least the 16th of the month, and he was not quite sure but it was the 17th. Katrina's mother got so mixed in her calculations that her reckoning was lost entirely. The father, being satisfied that whatever was the date the day appointed had passed, felt bound in honor to permit his daughter to have her own way.

COLORED NEWS

We have several added to our sick list this week, among the number are Moses Grover and Ikie Edmonson.

Dee Palmer was painfully hurt by a fall last Tuesday. He is able to be on the street.

Joe Penick, of the extra gang on the L. & N. R. R., got his hand badly mashed Monday morning.

Whit Eaves' hand is healing nicely.

Mrs. Bell Kirk has just returned from an extended visit to Evansville. She reports an excellent time.

Prof. S. R. Driver and family wish to thank the Odd Fellow, U. B. F. and the K. of P. Lodges and the many friends who united in giving him such an excellent storm party on November 12. They brought a wagon load. He says come again, welcome.

Rev. H. Amos reports an excellent revival at Pleasant Grove Baptist church of Paducah. Had 14 converts and 9 for baptism.

Revival at Hecla Baptist church has just closed. Rev. Gordon baptized 18 candidates last Sunday.

The "Feast in the Wilderness," given by the Mt Zion Baptist church was a great success. Receipts $80 and yet there is more to come. We wish to thank the public for its liberal patronage and good order.

We learn that Prof. Bell and Rev. Evans have both received their Thanksgiving boxes from Tennessee. The old people still remember them. With a coop of fine chickens to feast upon, we are hoping Prof. Bell will soon be a big fat man.

Notices are out announcing the marriage of Charlie X. Davis to Miss Home Willis November 24 at home of her parents.

Bishop A. Mack, D. D., of Kansas City, paid Rev. Evans a visit the 23rd inst., en route to Nashville, Tenn., where he has two books being published by the National Baptist Publishing Board. Bishop Mack is a Baptist preacher of 40 years standing and has been instrumental in bringing many souls to Christ.

Stop coughing! you rack the lungs and worry the body. BAL-LARD'S PLETHORH SYRUP cures Croup, Whooping Cough and restores comfortable breathing. Price 35c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by drug department of the St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated.

A new time card of the Henderson Division will go into effect soon. The new passenger train on this schedule between Evansville and Guthrie will leave Earlington about 7:55 going south in the morning and about 5:55 going north in the afternoon. The Interurban will reach Madisonville a half hour earlier in the morning and leave Madisonville at 5:55 in the afternoon.

We Are Not Satisfied

Notwithstanding the fact that we have by large odds surpassed our previous records for fall business to date we are still not satisfied.

After having made two trips to market this fall we placed two of the largest orders of the season last week for dry goods, notions, fancy goods, sweaters, neck wear, etc., not to say anything of our holiday goods which order we placed some time ago, and we can assure our customers that our line will be complete from now until the holidays—and just here we wish to say in regard to our holiday line that this year it will eclipse all our previous attempt in quality, quantity and variety—with prices moderate—we extend to you a warm invitation to visit our store when in need of any article of wearing apparel, house hold necessity, implements of the workshop or elsewhere.

Cutting one instance of the values we at all times maintain coupled with the high quality of goods carried, we have never had such proof of the appreciation of our day in hand day out conservative prices as that of Saturday, Nov. 12, when there were three large sales in progress with all the accompanying noises, yet we had one of the largest days of our career.

Isn't This Proof Positive That it

Four-Fifths of Your Store's Patrons Were Won by Advertising--And Four-Fifths of These Would Be Lost if You Stopped Ad- vertising!

Newspaper advertising is a part of all worth-while store-service—a part of it which patrons particularly value. For it keeps them in touch with your store-events, your sales, the arrival of new stocks, the showing of novelties, the buying opportunities which your store must create for its friends.

The advertising becomes the link between the store and its clientele. They expect the store's advertising to SERVE THEM—"not now and then," not partially; but ALWAYS, and fully! To curtail the advertising—in volume or frequency—would make the same impression on them as though you moved into smaller quarters and cut down your force of clerks and workers. TO INCREASE your advertising to make it more complete as "store news," as a "market letter," as a bulletin of bargains—will have the effect of enlisting a lot of new store-friends every day, and of winning anew all of the old ones!

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED AT EARLINGTON FREE LIBRARY.

Fine Lot of New Fiction on the Shelves for Earlinton Readers.

A number of new books of fiction, among the most popular recent stories, have been ordered for the Earlinton Free Library, and a portion of the order has been received and may now be had from the librarian any afternoon or evening, during the hours from two to five and from seven to eight o'clock. Lovers of good fiction in Earlinton keep the circulating end of the library very active, especially after a new list of new books is announced. The books that were put on the shelves fresh yesterday are "Going Some," "The Goose Girl," "Truxton King," "Old Rose and Silver," "The Calling of Dan Matthews," "The Rose and the Ring," "The Heritage of the Desert," "No Man's Land," "The Girl of the Lombarlost," "Hope Loving," "Dixie Hart," "Mary Carey," and "Max." The other books ordered will be supplied as soon as the house through which they come can procure the volumes from the various publishers.

HEIR TO MILLIONS WEDS FORMER HOTEL MAID

Thomas T. Eckert Takes Miss Minnie Eagen For a Bride in New York.

New York, Nov. 22.—Miss Minnie Eagen, who formerly was a hotel maid at $20 a month, was married to-day to Thomas T. Eckert, Jr., heir to the $3,000,000 estate of the late Gen. Thos. T. Eckert, long president of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The crowd around the Roman Catholic church in which the wedding was held was so great that the sexton called for police to keep it in check. Mr. Eckert is 53 years of age and his bride is 45. He said that he was not going on any extended honeymoon, as he had to stay in New York to defend a contest of his father's will brought by his brother James. James Eckert alleges that his brother used undue influence upon their father. Mrs. Eckert, the bride of to-day, was at one time a domestic in the household of Gen. Eckert.

MISS HELEN GRADY PASSES AWAY.

Young Lady of Mortons Gap is a Victim of Typhoid Fever.

Miss Helen Grady, the twenty-two-year-old daughter of Elliott Grady, of near Mortons Gap, died Tuesday night of typhoid fever, after an illness of over three weeks. She was buried at Salem Wednesday afternoon. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. William Olark.

Miss Helen was a general favorite with her friends and acquaintances and her early death is deeply regretted by the entire neighborhood.

RICE-STIX'S $1,000,000.00 SALE of the BIG LOWENSTEIN STOCK of MEMPHIS

BEGINS FRIDAY, NOV. 25, ENDS
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3

Having depleted our stocks in every department with the Big Orange Sale which ended November 12, it was a splendid opportunity to replenish all lines on the following Monday, when Rice, Stix & Co., of St. Louis, threw on the wholesale market the entire $1,000,000 stock of B. Lowenstein & Sons, of Memphis, Tenn.

This stock consisted chiefly of new and fall and winter staple merchandise, such as every family is constantly in need of. With the combined buying capacity of our stores we bought big lots of winter goods at remarkably low prices, and we propose to make these eight days of brisk selling stand out as a brilliant epoch in the Retail History of Madisonville.

Remember there is a cause for these low prices. An opportunity came our way. We grasped it. Now we pass it on to you. Don't turn it down.

Remnants

We have been saving all the remnants and short lengths that have accumulated during the last 30 days, and we are just loaded with attractive values in every kind of merchandise that is measured by the yard. Laces, Embroideries, Silks, Dress Goods, Gingham, Waistings, Ribbons, Linens, Shirtings, Table Linens, Flannels, Outings, Domestic, Calicoes, Percalés, etc.

Every piece ticketed with yardage and sale price. You'll find just what you are looking for and the price will be a remnant.
